PROGRAM OF EXERCISES FOR INDEPENDENCE DAY

Community Picnic, Horse Show and Tourney Included-Committee Needs Funds.

More than $500 has already been pledged oward defraying the cost of Washington's Fourth of July celebration, and members of the citizens' committee in charge of the program will redouble their efforts this week to obtain the additional funds necessary for carrying out the festivities along the lines originally planned.

This means that every one of the fealand and Virginia, fair today and Montures proposed, including a community picnic, horse show and tournament, athletic contests, moving pictures and fireprises the east gulf states, Tennessee and works, will be arranged, if the money is Georgia, the highest reading reported being 100 degrees at Thomasville in the a general response to the call for sub-region. In other parts of the country the weather remained fair.

With the exception of local rains in the west gulf states and the southern Rocky mountain region the weather will be generally fair Sunday and Monday throughout the country. night. "The fireworks company to which a contract is awarded must have about four weeks in which to fill the order, and as the fireworks will be one of the big erally fair Sunday and Monday throughout the country.

No important temperature changes are indicated for any part of the country during one next two days.

The winds along the Atlantic and east gulf coasts will be light to moderate variable; on the west gulf coast moderate variable; on the lower lakes moderate variable; on the lower lakes moderate southwest and west, probably fresh to strong on Superior.

By the interest of expense in the program it is necessary that we should know in advance as to the extent of our funds."

The fireworks committee, of which E. C. Graham is chairman, will meet Tuest day in the rooms of the Retail Merchants' Association to consider proposals which lakes moderate southwest and west, probably fresh to strong on Superior.

Callaghan, who is a past commander of Camp 171. United Confederate Veterans, recently received the flag from Mrs. Laura Clark, widow of Gen. William T. Clark, chief of staff of Gen. McPherson, who was killed in the battle before Atlanta. This flag Mr. Callaghan sent to Texas, where it is now in the state library at Austin. He recently received a letter from Joseph McClure, the colorbearer, from whom it was wrested after he, McClure, had been wounded. This letter was published in The Star following its receipt. Mr. Callaghan made a successful attempt to find the man that careful.

OF CONFEDERATE FLAG

That to the matter of the capture of the flag, which was given to the regiment as a body. Of course I got the flag, being the first man in the column, as I was sergeant major at the time, and the regiment was marching left in front. Our regiment was on the left of the brigade and that position brought me the "first man on the job."

"As we halted I looked up and saw what I supposed was a signal of surrender and supposed it was a picket post wanting to surrender. I called the attention of the colonel to this signal and asked if I might go and bring it in. He said: 'Do not go up there, as you might get hurt,' as both sides were shooting over the top of the breastworks. The colonel left me to see to the formation of the regiment and, while he did so, I started up the hill to secure my prisoners, who I supposed wanted to surrender. "I had no idea that my name was men
